

modernising?

(... or building?)

Presdwood

Look carefully into this Masonite[®] picture. Last year the kitchen was modernised. Now the dining room is well on the way—thanks to economical, easily-worked Masonite. See how the attractive vertically-grooved Presdwood wall forms a storage partition between the two rooms. Look at that two-way kitchen-to-dining-room cupboard, and the wall recess with power points for toaster, jug or other electric aids. As for the Tempered Presdwood table with its extended serving area—what a beauty that's going to be! All so easy to do with Masonite! And don't forget...Masonite can be finished in any way you like... with paint, enamel or lacquer... or it can be waxed or clear lacquered and left in its natural warm brown. You'll enjoy modernising or building with Masonite.

* MASONITE is a Reg. Trade Mark

There are four Masonite hardboards in general use—Standard Presdwood, Tempered Presdwood, Temptrile (for "tiling") and Primecote (Presdwood with a factory-applied priming coat). Each is supplied in smooth 12 ft. x 4 ft. sheets. All can be worked with ordinary carpenters' tools. Ask your nearest Masonite distributor for full information.

If you cannot obtain immediate delivery of Masonite, it is because demand still exceeds supply—but production has been trebled in an endeavour to meet ever-increasing orders.

GUNS OF PEACE

This illustration shows the top of one of the "guns" at Masonite's Raymond Terrace plant. Hardwood chips are fed into these guns and, under high steam pressure, are exploded into tough natural wood fibre. This unique and exclusive Masonite process is the first important stage in the making of "The Wonder Board of 1,000 Uses."

MASONITE CORPORATION (AUSTRALIA) LIMITED

SALES DIVISION:

369 Pitt Street SYDNEY • 533 Collins Street, MELBOURNE
282 Queen Street, BRISBANE • 31 Chesser Street, ADELAIDE

MA17-50